On this occasion, Mr. Al-Emadi said Al-Ahli Hospital successfully completed its 15-year journey and overcame several challenges in its race towards development. “The hospital has turned to be a distinct medical destination with the highest level of facilities, sophistication and quality services and this has been possible through hard work,” he said, thanking all and directors of the hospital for helping formulate specific goals and strategies over the years.

He noted that the hospital secured several achievements and remarkable development over the last five years and became “the largest private hospital in Qatar”.

Mr. Jamal Hammad DY CEO said efforts by the staff and directors helped the hospital – which was started as a clinic – become “the largest private hospital in the country with modern facilities”. “The hospital is equipped with qualified doctors and medical staff, as well as advanced equipment, to treat patients. The clinic, with a small emergency section, has now become a full-fledged hospital with several ICUs and more than 1,400 staff members. In the last five years, the number of staff and buildings has been doubled,” he said.

The hospital has undergone several expansion and development programs. New emergency facilities for adult and pediatric care will be set up while new units will also be built for physiotherapy, orthopedic and head & neck. Besides, a new cosmetic department along with a plastic surgery unit will come up at the hospital.

Further, the hospital will get eight more operation theatres with facilities of stomach surgery. It is also looking to increase the staff strength in accordance with the increase in number of patients.
